FARIGO HERE.

Italian Regie Contractor Visit
The Tobacco District.

Change to be Made in Supplying
One of The Largest Foreign Demands For Leaf.

If the report be true that the Italian government has adopted trust methods to buy its supply of dark tobacco, the Italian contract will not be represented hereafter on his boards.

Mr. Farigo, the representative of the Italian government is making a tour of the markets of the dark district, and it is said upon good authority is leaving behind him an organization by counties, by which the regie tobacco will be bought from the farmers themselves.

He is accompanied by Mr. Dunnington, of Farmville, Va., who is to represent the trust in Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee.

They were at Clarksville last week, in this city this week and left Wednesday for Mayfield, to fix the Western counties. The plan is said to be to have a county agent in each county, who will divide the counties into districts and appoint a canvasser for each district. No agent will be allowed to invade another agent's territory. The tobacco bought will be prized and shipped to New York direct. The Italian government will thus be enabled to do away with its brokers and will no longer be a bidder upon the markets, unless the agents fail to secure enough tobacco by the other methods.

This is the startling news that has come to the local tobacco men from their representatives who have obtained the information from persons unable to keep a secret. The plans are all being laid with great secrecy, and it is not yet known whether the Italian Government is operating the trust itself, or acting in conjunction with a New York syndicate that proposes to supply the whole regie demand. In either case, there will be a revolution in supplying one of the largest foreign contracts. The warehousemen will be affected in two ways.

A large part of the tobacco will be diverted from the local markets, and one of the heaviest buyers will cease to be a bidder on the boards. If the plan works, it is believed an attempt will be made to control the Spanish, French, German and Austrian contracts in the same way.

MRS. GRIFFIN DEAD.

Plous Christian Lady Passes
Away at Lafayette.

Lafayette, Ky., Sept. 4.—Mrs. Murry Griffin, wife of W. T. Griffin of this place, died this morning at 1 o'clock of bronchitis. She had been in feeble health some time, and her death was not unexpected. She was 53 years of age, and leaves an aged husband, who is in feeble health, and five children, besides many relatives and friends to mourn her departure.

She was an excellent Christian lady, a member of the M. E. church South, and will be greatly missed by her church and especially her pastor.

WEARS THE HORNS.

If There Are Others Left Then Claim Honors.

Mr. J. A. Draper, of Draper Bros., wears the honors on the production of clover hay and clover seed crop. He made 175 tons of fine hay and 120 bushels of clover seed from eighty acres of land. Can any other Christian county farmer beat this? If so, let us hear from him.

Mr. Holt R. Prince, the popular drummer, is a papa for the first time. The new arrival is a girl, born Monday.

BALDHEADED CLUB

Col. Dave Tandy Fined For Laughing At Col. Claggett.

President Cooper Stops a Discussion of the Trial of Admiral Schley.

President Cooper with his customary promptness was on hand at exactly the hour for opening the club Saturday night and lost no time in getting down to business.

Col. Dave Tandy was sitting over behind the cooler reading a newspaper and suddenly disturbed the roll-call by dropping the paper, slapping his leg and laughing loud enough to excite the jealousy of the man who originated the laugh.

President Cooper reproved him sharply and fined him 30 cents for not suppressing his unseemly hilarity.

Col. Tandy said it was an involuntary outburst of uncontrollable merriment. He said he had read in the paper he held in his hand that the officials of the Indiana Industrial School for girls, after much discussion, had invested $80 in mirrors for the girls. Just then Col. Claggett came in and he got to thinking what a smashing of looking glasses there would be if Col. Claggett was a girl in that school and tried to look at himself. The humor of the thing caused him to lose control of himself and he could not help laughing.

President Cooper, after hearing Col. Tandy's excuse, remitted the fine.

"Speaking of Col. Claggett," said Col. Lem McKee, "reminds me of a good one on him. I happened to be out in the country attending church last winter and sat behind Col. Claggett, who was seated under the over-head stove pipe. Pretty soon little particles of soot began to float down and lodge on his head. Col. Claggett, supposing the early flies were having fun with his scalp, began to knock them off and, as distance he hit one he left a big black spot. People behind him began to giggle and the blacker he painted his ostrich egg the more the spectators laughed. I had to make him move his seat to keep from breaking up the meeting."

Col. Claggett remarked that the story was one of Col. McKee's pipe dreams, for nobody ever heard of Lem's being in a church.

"I see," said Col. Bob Wooldridge,

"that they are going to put our fighting friend Schley on trial next week for killing the Spaniards at Santiago."

Col. Bill Bamberger said he thought it was a shame to put a man for sinking a fleet in time of war.

"And the worst of it is," continued Col. Wooldridge, "the main witness for the prosecution is the only man who proved an alibi on the day of the fight, and only got there in time to write a report. If it has come to such a pass that we are to try our heroes for ending the war, we may expect somebody to propose next to fine the government for breach of the peace in declaring war."

"Taking of heroes," remarked Col. Walter Kelly, "brings to mind those who sank the Merrimac and was kissed out of the country by the women, is back from the Philippines. Wonder if they are going to try him for harboring the enemy" by blocking the channel."

The discussion was in danger of drifting into a running conversation all round, when President Cooper called the club to order and hastened the meeting to a close.

OLIVER=OLIVER

Aged Farmer Weds His Young
Trigg County Cousin.

After a Journey of Many Miles
They Met And Married.
This Week.

Mr. J. N. H. Oliver, of Mooresville, Washington county, Ky., and Miss Elizabeth Oliver, of near Rockcastle, Trigg county, were married in the county clerk's office in this city by Judge Cansler Tuesday morning.

The parties are cousins and the affair was an elopement.

Mr. Oliver has a sister living near Cobb, whom he visited last summer. Last year he met Miss Oliver and it was a case of love at first sight. The latter is quite young, while Mr. Oliver is about 60 years old, and on account of the great difference in their ages there was parental objection.

An elopement was arranged and Mr. Oliver drove from his home through the country in a buggy, a distance of about 250 miles, arriving at Rockcastle Monday night.

He was met at the gate by the young lady, who immediately got into the vehicle and the two came to this city, where the nuptial knot was tied as above stated. Mr. Oliver and his young bride spent Tuesday at Hotel Yancey, and after driving over the city in the afternoon, went a few miles into the country where they staid all night with acquaintances. They left early Wednesday morning for Mooresville.

This is the aged groom's second marriage. He has three children and several grandchildren.

CARBOLIC ACID

Thrown in Woman's Face By Her Husband.

Charles Ross, a performer with Wallace's circus, threw a vial of carbolic acid in the face of his wife, Mamie Forepaugh, at Decatur, Ind. Mrs. Ross is a daughter of Adam Forepaugh and is a bareback rider with the Wallace show.

The acid was thrown while the woman was eating. The husband covered her face and ran down on her neck and shoulders. Mrs. Ross, luckily, closed her eyes in time to save herself from being blinded, but she will be disfigured for life. Ross threw the acid on account of jealousy. He was immediately arrested and declared he had been waiting for a favorable opportunity to attack his wife for several days.

Mrs. Ross was with Wallace's circus when it was in this section last year and was considered one of the best bareback riders in the show business.

CUTTING THE WEED.

Ripe Tobacco Being Housed With a Rush.

Outlook Very Flattering for a Fine Crop in Christian—Worms Abundant.

Many farmers have begun to cut and house their tobacco and by the middle of the month much of the weed will have been put under shelter.

Although the worms are more numerous than for years the outlook is very flattering for a fine crop in Christian and adjoining counties.

The cool weather during May and June was very unfavorable, and, at the time of setting, the young plants were small and in some localities scarce; this resulted in a smaller acreage than usual. Cut worms and grasshoppers attacked it, doing considerable damage in some sections. A poor start was made and the plants soon began to suffer for rain. The drought became more intense and was not generally broken until the second week in August. Since the drought was broken, the improvement has been remarkable.

While much of the weed is ripe there are many fields of very late tobacco that will be in possible danger of frost before they can be housed.

POTATO THIEF.

Special Watchman Fires at a Farm Stealing Vegetables.

The Misses Hopper have been missing vegetables from their garden recently and employed Booth Morris to watch for the thief. About one o'clock yesterday morning Mr. Morris saw a negro man get over the fence with a hoe and sack and begin digging sweet potatoes. When called the man broke to run and Morris fired at him and hit him. He yelled with pain, but did not stop and escaped in the darkness. A woman on the outside of the fence also ran. There was blood on the fence the next morning, where the man climbed over.

TOBACCO SALES.

No Change in Quotations From Last Week.

Traffic in the weed this week was confined to private sales and there was no material change in prices of last week. The demand was good and sales made proved satisfactory to all concerned.

Receipts for the week were one hundred per cent, in excess of offerings. The receipts for the year amount to 11,990 hogheads and sales for the same period 10,505 hogheads. There is nothing doing in the loose market at this time.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
The best of all foods for all humors.

A dispute over the division of money raised in the mountain counties to aid in their defense, caused Jim Howard, convicted of the Goebel murder, to attack Caleb Powers, who was also convicted, in the Frankfort jail Wednesday evening.

Powers was knocked senseless by a heavy ink bottle and is in a serious condition with a gash four inches long across his forehead, and the middle temple artery is severed. The only witness was J. K. Dixon, who had solicited the defense fund. Howard claims Powers struck him and assumed a threatening attitude. Powers denies this and claims the attack was unprovoked.

PRINCE OF SHOWMEN.

The Robinsons, Sire, Son and Grandson... Their Enterprises.

A Marvelous Story of Continued Success and Expansion Covering Three Quarters of a Century.

For more than three quarters of a century the name of "John Robinson" has been associated with the tented and traveling amusement enterprises of the United States. From a very humble beginning and small capital the Robinson show has grown to gigantic proportions and its owner is one of the wealthy men of Ohio. Since 1824 when "Uncle John," then a young man residing in Cincinnati, embarked in the business, down to now, the name of John Robinson, in newspaper parlance, appeared at the masthead of widely spread Circus Advance Couriers. John Robinson ("Uncle John") John F. Robinson ("The Governor") and John G. Robinson ("Little John"), sire, son and grandson have successively been the managers of the greatest shows of their times.

"UNCLE JOHN"

In 1824 John Robinson, who was born in the south, at Charleston, S. C., we believe, organized a wagon show with G. N. Elidrid, and this aggregation boasted of "southern men, southern women, southern horses and southern enterprise against the world." For many years this show toured the southern and eastern country, meeting with great success. In 1836 Mr. Robinson sold his interest to Mr. Elidrid, and returned to Cincinnati, determined to retire from the business. But fortunately, he changed his mind, and the greatest showman of his time was saved to the people of the United States. From 1824 to 1871 the senior Robinson was the active manager of a constantly growing enterprise, and his name became a household word throughout the country. His son, John F., then succeeded to the sole ownership of the show.

The Robinson show at this time enjoyed the reputation of having produced the best riders, leapers and tumblers that the world had ever seen. "The Governor," who was to the major born, a man of great executive ability, by nature and education a Director of Public Amusements, thoroughly comprehending the desires of the public, proved a worthy successor of his pioneer father. The first year of his proprietorship was one of great success. He attempted and gave in many cities four performances daily, an unmatchedfeat in show annals, furnished the thirsty thousands under his canopy with free ice water, uniformed waiters supplanting the "canary butchers" and lemonade fields. The public drank ice water from silver goblets and applauded the thoughtful management. It was not a great thing, perhaps, but one of the detected show grafts was eliminated and a man or woman could safely drink something in a red hot atmosphere without the fear of medical treatment being necessary an hour afterward.

To the Robinson show is to be credited many departures from old traditions and customs. Away back, in 1852, the "bank ring" was introduced by "Uncle John" and to-day it is universally used. This show was the first to use two tents, one for the menagerie and the other for the circus; the first to erect bill boards; the first to adopt railroads as a means of transportation; the first to introduce the present system of lighting and the first to have their cages ornamented with heavy carvings, each historically accurate. The first cook tent on a show lot was at the Robinson show. The Robinson show was the first to visit California and return the same season, and it was the first to visit the large western cities with "miles of glittering splendor." In a word, the Robinsons have been pioneers in many directions just as would be expected of patriotic and brainy Ohio capitalists, who have kept the element of their common wealth's glory far to the front. And Ohio's citizens have not been slow to recognize this crowning fact, for great crowds invariably throng the huge tents each season as the show makes its triumphal march across and through the Buckeye State. In 1896 Mr. John G. Robinson became associated with his father, "the Governor" in the management, not to be recounted in cold type. There is nothing on this earth, in amusement annals, to which the mind clings with such loving tenacity, as the memories of the first circus, and, coupled with this, are the images of the men, living and dead, who brought these wonders and held us spellbound in a world which does not exist anywhere on this globe, outside of a circus tent. Blessings on the men and women who cheer our hearts and let in on our lives the sunshine and the glories of the good old-fashioned circus, three rings and all, since there must be improvements, but thank fortune, the sawdust and the clown and the toy balloon remain, and they will be in Hopkinsville, Friday Sept. 13.

He Owes His Life to the Fore-thought of a Companion.

While on a camping trip in Webster county, Mr. S. L. Stump of Normanton, W. Va., had a severe attack of bloody flux. He says, "I firmly believe that I owe my life to the fore-thought of one of the company who had been along with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy." Moral—Procure a bottle of this remedy when leaving home. It cannot be obtained when on a hunting, fishing or shooting trip. Nature can't be compelled to go out of season or steamer, and at such times and places it is most likely to be needed. The safe way is to have it with you. Thousands of travelers never leave home, nor a journey without it. For sale by all drug stores.

L. & N. R. R. will sell round trip tickets to Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 31st, Sept. 1st and 2nd at one fare ($1.40) except English and Canadian section. National Association of Travel Agents. Tickets good until Sept. 10th. C. T. Miller, Agent.

L. & N. R. R. will sell round trip tickets to Norfolk, Va., Sept. 1st and 2nd, good returning until Sept. 15 at one fare ($2.15) account, meet at one fare.

The improvements consists of a good two-story dwelling house of eight rooms, two halls, front and back porches; two new tenant houses, a new tobacco barn, a large garage, buggy house, granary, and all needed to houses, small.

TERMS: The sale will be for one-third cash, balance in one and two years with interest from date and lien retained to secure the delivery of the property.

The property may be bought privately at any time prior to the above named date.

Mr. Geo. D. Rutherford, who owns the premises will show the property at any time to prospective purchasers. For further information apply to him or his attorney, C. E. MITCHELL, Agent.

WANTS DIVORCE

After Two Years' Wedded Life Separation is Sought.

Jenny Elgin filed suit yesterday for divorce from Dick Elgin. They were married in 1894 and lived together about two years at which time, says the plaintiff, "he began to torment me." Being "tormented" she sought redress to seek other quarters.

Half-Sick

"I first used Ayer's Sarsaparilla in the fall of 1848. Since then I have taken it every spring as a blood-purifying and nerve-strengthening medicine."

S. L. Jones, Wichita, Kans.

If you feel run down, are easily tired, if your nerves are weak and your blood is thin, then begin to take the good old standard family medicine, Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

It's a regular nerve lifter, a perfect blood builder. It's safe. All druggists.

Ask your doctor what he thinks of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. His opinion will be the best. For those who are sick we will be satisfied.

Mrs. Maud B. Joy, giving her home at Hopkinsville, was married Wednesday afternoon at the Galt House, Louisville, to Mr. E. B. Avery, a young business man.

Mr. ANDREW MATTHEWS, Maud Brendler, a widow of Eddyville. She is a charming and accomplished lady and very popular in her home town of Eddyville. She has relatives in this city.

NASHVILLE NINE OUTDOORS

Local Team Won by a Score of 41 to 24 Points to Two at 1:10 on eve of

The local ball team played an exciting game Tuesday, defeating the Nashville nine by a score of 14 to 2. The attachment was quite large and lovers of the game were treated to a fine exhibition. Nashville was clearly outclassed by the Hopkinsville boys and the playing of our local club was almost perfect. The battery work of Eggers and Newman, the bats of the Morris brothers and the excellent work of Blithe and Newman were special features of the home club's work.

NEGRO BURNED.

Brute Who Assaulted a White Girl Shot by a Mob.

Troy, Ala., Sept. 4.—Miss Wilson, seventeen years old, was criminally assaulted by Bill Fournier, a negro, about eighteen miles southeast of the city. Miss Wilson was on her way to school at Chestnut Grove. Soon a posse was after the negro. When they reached the scene of the crime they found Miss Wilson unconscious and terribly bitten in the face and bruised about the head.

The posse tracked the negro to his home, where he had gone and laid down on the bed, saying that he was sick. The negro identified him and he was taken out and shot and then his body burned.

Miss Wilson is in a precarious condition.

SYSTEMIC CATARRH.

Peruna Cures Catarrh Wherever Located.

Miss Mattie L. Guild, of Chicago, Ill.

Miss Mattie L. Guild, President Illinois Young People's Christian Temperance Union, in a recent letter from Chicago, says:

"I doubt if Peruna has a rival in all the remedies recommended to day for catarrh of the system. A remedy that will cure catarrh of the stomach will cure the same condition of the mucous membrane anywhere. I have found it the best remedy I have ever tried for catarrh, and believing it worthy my endorsement I gladly second it."

Peruna will cure catarrh wherever located. In pelvic catarrh it has won great success. Peruna will cure any case of diarrhea, scrofula or chronic. Peruna is an absolute specific for dysentery. Peruna cures catarrh of the liver. Peruna cures catarrh of the stomach.

Address The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O., for a free book entitled "Summer Catarrh."

HERNDON HAPPENINGS.

Herndon, Ky., Sept. 1. The weather for the past week has been very pleasant.

Miss Carrie Dryer, of Hopkinton, is the pleasant guest of Miss Mabel Stone.

Miss Katie Knight, who has been spending a few days with Miss Myra Word, of Beverly, has returned home.

Miss Marguerite Mason has returned home from an extended visit to relatives and friends, and will begin giving music lessons to day.

Miss Katie Mitchell and brother, Earl, attended the moonlight at Mr. J. R. Dickerson's last Friday night.

Miss Daisy Tilly left for Hopkinsville this morning where she will attend school at South Kentucky College.

Miss Mildred Anderson, who has been very sick, has recovered.

Mr. H. P. Hopkins, of Paducah, is the guest of his daughter, Mrs. M. S. Murchison.

Miss Berdice Lester, of Paducah, is visiting Miss Louise Pace.

Mrs. Jda Dawson has returned from a visit to her mother, Mrs. Young, near Bennett, Iowa.

Mrs. W. W. Peeler, daughter and sister, have returned from a two weeks' visit to relatives at Haley's Mill, Greenfield and Central City.

We have been thinking if gatherers of the girls' teeth have been decaying so fast, but now the mystery is explained, as Mr. Stern Lapison will go to Louisville in October to study dentistry.

Misses Katie and Esther Mitchel left this morning for Hopkinsville, where they will attend school at Bethel Female College. We extend our sincere sympathy to the blue-eyed boy and also the black-eyed one, too, cheer up boys, ten months is not always.

We hope that "Juno & Venus" have gone into winter quarters the early. Come again, we like your letters.

NOT EASILY DROWNED.

A French Scientist's Curious Experiments with Insects.

M. Devaux, a French physiologist, recently made experiments with insects, his object being, according to the St. Louis Republic, to ascertain how long they would be able to resist asphyxiation after they had been submerged in water.

An ant, he says, after being submerged, doubles itself bodily up three or four times and then becomes absolutely inert. Though apparently drowned, it soon begins to move after it is taken out of the water, and at the end of five or ten minutes it walks about as well as ever. If they remain submerged for several hours, say from six to eight, ants require a longer period, at least half an hour, to recover themselves.

The direct heat of the sun seems to benefit them greatly.

Even if the submersion lasts for 24 hours most of the drowned ants come back to life. They do not begin to move for half or three-quarters of an hour and their first tokens of life are so slight that they can only be seen through microscope. If an ant is lightly touched while it is making these weak movements it becomes more brisk and acts as though it had just been aroused from sleep.

According to M. Devaux, some ants can even be restored to life after they have been in the water for 60 hours. Others, on the contrary, though they manifest a few signs of life, die at the end of one or two days.

"I have," he says, "seen ants manifest a momentary return to life after it had been submerged for 110 hours. I left three lying inert at the bottom of a vessel of water from six o'clock in the morning of May 9 to eight o'clock in the morning of May 14, and when I took them out one became quite lively after it had passed a few hours in the open air. This insect, therefore, recovered completely after it had been five days underwater. I do not believe that there is on record any example of an insect being resuscitated in this wonderful manner."

One would naturally think that insects which generally live in the water and which only occasionally come to the surface for the purpose of breathing would be able to resist asphyxiation longer than ants and other land insects, but this is not the case. The experiments made by M. Devaux show that aquatic insects are more easily asphyxiated than ants. He placed them in ten hours in a running stream several of the former in such a manner that they could move up to the surface, and when I took them out they made off a few moments and died soon afterward.

AN INTERESTING PATIENT.

The Treatment of a Sick Rhinoceros at Schonbrunn.

An interesting patient at the Schönbrunn menagerie, the sick rhinoceros, appears at 10 o'clock to have recovered from the severe attack of influenza under which she has been suffering, says the London Telegraph. A few days ago she took in her tail, in the openair, a strongly barred enclosure in the park near the elephant's ground having been assigned to her. She showed signs of illness during the latter part of her sea voyage, and her van from Trieste to Vienna was heated by 60 her water tanks. Unfortunately, on reaching the city, a chilly day increased her cold, and she refused all food. She was ordered daily five to six quarts of camomile tea and several quarts of red wine. She swallowed this stringer with great willingness, and, perhaps, preferred it to the chopped hay and green food to which she has now returned. The fear of approaching her made the surgeon's difficult, for even a sick rhinoceros is enormously strong. She is a fine young female, 31 years old, and was sent to the emperor's menagerie from the Malay peninsula. Great interest has been taken in her recovery, among her visitors being the German crown prince.

The treatment employed by the veterinary surgeon has also been much criticized, but the result shows its correctness.

A Walking Feat.

Mr. J. Nugent, 44 Crook street, Maryport, performed a remarkable walking feat, says London's Tit-Bits, accomplishing 80 miles in 24 hours, without stopping to rest. Leaving Maryport he walked via Cockermouth to Keswick, thence via Was-sentwaite to Carlisle, and from Carlisle home. Mr. Nugent, who is 54 years of age, is of slight build, and did not train for the task. He carried some barley bread, which he ate while walking, and drank water. He has been a vegetarian 25 years, and is a non-smoker and teetotaler.

AN ELEPHANT'S DERBY.

An Exciting Sport as It Is Followed in India.

An elephants' Derby sounds distinctly sensational, but the idea cannot sound more sensational than such a contest actually.

The Briton, says the London Express, is nothing if not a portly one, despite Napoleon's influence, and about our leading a fat of fat ones; and wherever John Bull goes there you may be sure to find him indulging in some form of sport or another.

Thus, in India elephants are often impressed into the service of our sporting enthusiasts, and an elephants' Derby recently took place up country.

Steepchasing with horses is exciting enough, but when you have elephants engaged in this form of sport—well, you somehow forget that life even seemed dull to you.

Naturally, the course is not so perfect as at Epsom. Nevertheless, there are plenty of signs of vantage from which crowds of eager spectators, native and white, watch the progress of the contest and encourage the riders by their shrill shrieks and constant shouting.

By the din alone you would know that you were in the east, even if you did not see the spectators and competitors.

The mahouts, as the native drivers are called, cling to the necks of their mounts, urging them on by means of their sharp goads, which they apply to the elephants' ears.

To see the huge, lumbering creatures being driven over the course at their utmost speed is at once one of the most comical and exciting sights imaginable.

Harnesses and ditches are constructed at intervals across the track, and though a novice would in vain cast eyes on them regard the elephants' efforts to negotiate these with convulsions of laughter, devotees to this form of racing become far too absorbed in the fortunes of the contest for the ludicrous side of it to appeal to them.

Besides, it is just these obstacles which provide the critical points of the race, for as the elephants attempt to get over or out of them many a racer goes down, and many a mahout is thrown to the ground at imminent peril of being crushed by the elephant which is immediately following.

Take it as a whole, an elephant steepchase is a sight to remember, and one you should never miss seeing if ever you get an opportunity. It out-derives all the derbies within living memory as far as excitement is concerned.

PACKING TRUNKS.

is the Novel Employment of One Woman—au-Beau Methods.

A professional trunk-packer talks as follows about her calling in the Woman's Home Companion:

"I engaged my sister as my assistant and we earn a good living. I always do the packing, while she sits beside me and joins down in the little book which goes with each key. The different articles as I put them in. She sells as nearly as possible just where each article is to be found, so that the owner will have little trouble in unpacking. I make a point of packing all trunks in nearly the same way, so that persons who have once had trunks packed by me will find little difficulty in locating the various articles in any other trunks that I handle."

"My methods are all my own, and there is one point which I believe has gained and held me more customers than anything else; it is the quantity of pink and white tissue-paper that I always use. It gives to the trunk that look of daintiness which everyone is so fond of associating with his belongings."

Refuse to Die.

The creature most tenacious of life is the common sea polyp. If one is cut in two, two creatures are the result. One may be slit into half-down sections making as many animals. They may be turned inside out, when they apparently enjoy themselves just as well as before; if two be divided and placed end to end, the result will be a monster having a head at each extremity.

J. Horned Toad.

Capt. W. A. Butler had a Texas horned toad exhibiting it to his friends Wednesday. He got it from a passenger on the I. C. train, just from Texas. It was in a small box and was alive and anxious to get out. It looked more like a terrapin than a frog, as it had a neck and tail and a shell on its back.

I sell Lump, Nut, Mixed, Run oil mines and Pea coal.

Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Thirty Years of Suffering.

"I suffered for thirty years with diarrhoea and thought I was past being cured," says John S. McAllaway, of French Camp, Miss. "I had spent so much time and money and suffered so much that I had given up all hopes of recovery. I was so weak that I could not stand upright. I could do no work of labor, could not even travel, but by accident I was permitted to find a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and after taking several bottles I am now well again. I am so pleased with the result that I am anxious that it be in reach of all who suffer as I have."

MOONLIGHT FETE.

Miss Lula Dickerson Entertains Bennettsboro Young People.

Bennettsboro, Ky., Aug. 31.—On Friday evening, August 30th, at this place was given one of the most delightful moonlight picnics ever witnessed in this section. All the beau and belles of the neighborhood were assembled in the beautiful yard of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Dickerson, near Bennettsboro. Although only a spectator I must confess that the neat and tasteful white dresses of country lasses corresponded to their deportment and were beautifully and appropriately emblematic of all the virtues that should distinguish country life. The entertainment was given complimentary to Miss Dickerson's visitors, Misses Delta Adcock, of Church Hill, and Marie Stamper, of Big Rock, Tenn. Miss Lula, as usual, in her pretty and attractive manner, entertained the crowd beautifully. She was assisted by Miss Lou Sherrill and Mr. Graham Pattillo. Among the numerous persons present time and space will only allow me to mention the following:

Misses Marie Stamper, Big Rock, Tenn.; Delta Adcock, Church Hill; Lou Sherrill, Minnie Brame, Pearle Boyd, Lula Bradley, Clarksville, Tenn.; Jessie Stevenson, Mabel Stone, Herndon; Verna Southall, Carrie Dryer and Emma Hutchinson, Hopkinsville; Daisy Hall, Vivian Brame, Katie Moss, Mianie Farnsworth, Marilee and Florence Pattillo, Gussie Young, Lena McGee, Fanny Carter, Ada Miles, Fanny Carlos, Ploomy Fiese, Estell Walder, Birmingham, Ala.; Alice and Blanche Coleman, Ethel Hancock, Hampton, Tenn.; Elsie Kimball, Beverly; Fae Gregory, Church Hill; Katie Mitchell, Herndon; Bertha Savells, Sammie Roberts, Mabel Rogers, Salie Barber, Maggie and Mollie Bell Steverson, Gertrude Wall and Marie Radford.

Messrs. Ernest Stegar, Claude and Vivian Hall, Jack and Tom West, Bert Stone, John Foard, Albert Ledford, Pee Dee, John Griffin, Lafayette; Jesse Foard, Melvin Kimberling, Beverly; Minor and Leslie Rogers, Graham Pattillo, Frank Torian, Clifton Calhoun, Jim Southall and Lucian Barnes, Hopkinsville; Jim Shelton, Harry Young, Mr. Ward, Rufus and Ewing Smith, Buck and Joe Shelton, Ed Taylor, Wallace West, Pete and Joe Stevenson, Maxey Brame, Tom Stepp, John Robertson, John and Robert Joinger, Whig Moss, Milus and Jim Otterson, Illinois; Claud Johnson and Garland King, Howell; Jim Seay, Roy Stone, Tom and Bill Roberts, Fred Fiese, Sam and Tom Hall, Wallace Farrowsorth, Milton Major, George Coleman, Steve Johnson, Hendrix Major and Bud Miles.

"EVLYN."

A Lawn Party.

Church Hill, Aug. 30.—On the night of August 29 a merry crowd of young people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Pierce, of the Church Hill neighborhood. The warm oppressive air gradually turned into a pleasant breeze, in fear of molesting the jolly crowd that had gathered at this beautiful home. The lawn was so decorated as to make an ideal resting place.

Faint lights were flickering here and there, and in fact it was a sight not soon forgotten by any one that attended. We were all very sorry to see the hour of departure gradually approaching, but fearing we small hours would catch us too far away from home, we, after extending our thanks, slowly drove away, promising ourselves not to forget the evening spent.
